

Fashion scoop

"Today, fashion is really about sensuality-how a woman feels on the inside". says Donna Karan. "In the '80s women used suits with exaggerated shoulders and waists to make a strong impression. Women are now more comfortable with themselves and their bodies-they no longer feel the need to hide behind their clothes." This was evident in the recently concluded Ms. Lanka 2007 fashion show hosted by Gwendoline Kuhathewa of Technique International School for Beauty and Hair Dressing with the Sunday Observer as the print media sponsors. Here we feature some of the contestants on the ramp.

Pix : Vipula Amarasinghe

Ms. Sunday Observer 2007

