

Browsing the pages of wisdom...

Rabel and Mathew Keller

Highly impressed...

The mirror wall

Hum...dog tired

Sri Lankans' love for reading has apparently not waned in spite of electronic media, the internet and a host of other probable substitutes for the good old book. Hundreds and thousands of people have been thronging in through the gates of EMICH for nine days to sift through books at the Colombo International Book Fair. Publishers as well as visitors agree that turnout out has been far better than ever before.

Say cheese

Akitha and Dulana busy at the Arts Shop

Don't know what to pick

All under one roof

Pix Chinthaka Kumarasinghe