Fifteen lucky contestants sashayed their way through on the catwalk to be in the final of Ms. Traditional Look - the Mini Title that was keenly contested. The excitement backstage at the SLECC was intense. Getting dressed in glittering saris in eye catching hues or beautiful bridal outfits complete with traditional jewellery, gave the contestants a new courage to boggle with minds of the judges who had a difficult task before them. All this happened last Sunday (October 3) at the Sri Lanka Exhibition and Convention Centre, with PICO Events the venue sponsor. The panel of judges comprised Thianj

Haputhanthri - Project Manager for softlogic Informations System Privat Ltd, Lucille Dahanayake - Chairperson Hermes International, Shayana Senaviratna - Former Ms. Lanka and Neluka de Alwis - Director Fairway Condominium (Pvt) Ltd. The judging of the contestants was no cake walk for the judges.

Panel of judges

Dharani, Nayani, Sarika, Imashi and Jeevakala had painstakingly ensured that the contestants looked their very best for the parade before the judges. This glamorous event was threaded together by the compere Dinushini Witharanage. The other Mini titles to be worked off will be on October 31 the Ms. Body Beautiful and Ms. Crowned Glory. These events will be held at the poolside of Panorama Residencies.

It is also a day out for the contestants which they are looking forward to. Ms. Lanka 2010 for Ms. Asia 2011 will be crowned at a glittering pageant on December 11 at the BMICH. It is going to be a spectacular show now that the acknowledged choreographer Jith Pieris will be responsible for the creative and glamorous ideas that will go into the pageant for the entertainment of the audience.

The Raffle draw in aid of the Blind Choir and Women's Wing of SLFUH to help purchase a choir rope making machine is now postponed to November 15, 2010. Keep sending in your votes for the Sunday Observer Most Popular Contestant and ensure that your favourite contestant wears the glittering crown.

The Sunday Observer is in collaboration with Technique International School of Hairdressing & Beauty Therapy and Spa Therapy, for the presentation of this colourful pageant. The other sponsors are Pico Events, softlogic, Sterling Flowers and Trendywear.
