Exciting glitz, glamour and
Miss Fresh Face

It was an exciting day filled with glamour, glitz, photo shoots, facial make-ups, laughter and visions of becoming another Sri Lankan model to walk the ramps in Paris or London! It was the day at Thotupola, Piliyandala when the contestants for the Derana Veet Miss Sri Lanka 2012 for Miss World were made to take part in the invaluable Clean and Clear Miss Fresh Face mini pageant. It's a foregone conclusion that a 'Fresh Face' is vital to a model coupled with a pair of eyes that give out the impression of having 'awake eyes.'

At the outset of the day it may have been strange the idea of having a Clean and Clear Miss Fresh Face and by the end of the day the contestants realised the importance of these two facets in the life of a model.

The twelve contestants had to face a critical panel of judges comprising Pushpika Sandamali, the reigning Derana Miss Sri Lanka, Michelle Van Langenberg, beautician, Venura Koral-

The twelve shortlisted contestants have come a long way since their naive early days of faltering steps. Today they have learnt the art of how to walk and pose on the catwalk or off that intimidating stage, and are being geared to meet the day when one of them will be crowned Miss Sri Lanka 2012 for Miss World.

It was encouraging to note that readers have gone all out to vote their favourite contestant on the upper rungs of the vote count. Keep your votes rolling in for the Sunday Observer Most Popular Contestant. Get your friends to send in their votes early - don't delay. Give the contestants their opportunity to be recognised in our Sri Lankan scene.
