

The night of nights

Miss SUNDAY OBSERVER will be announced at the show

BY MAHES PERERA

Tonight's the night when the Designer of the Year 2013 will be crowned and the Sunday Observer Most Popular Contestant will be sashed at a glittering pageant at the Grand Oriental Hotel. Be a part of the splendour presented by the Cats Designer Circle that for the past so many weeks worked hard under the direction of their Chairperson Kumudu Amerasinghe.

The winner of the Sunday Observer SINGER plus Designer of the Year 2013 will carry away the coveted trophy and many other attractive prizes from the sponsors. There will also be a 1st, 2nd and 3rd runners-up who will give the contestants an opportunity to be recognised for their creative talents. What's more in the overall contest a 4th runner up will be included.

The Sunday Observer was inundated with coupons since the closing date for voting was announced last week.

It was an excited last minute rush as the coupons literally kept pouring in. Who will be the winner? The pageant this evening will reveal the results!

Those who attend the show are requested to be in their seats by 4.30 p.m., as it will start exactly at 5 p.m. The good news for all the guests is that the presenters Cats Designer Circle have decided to have the dancing and celebrations after the show at the ballroom with a live band Sublime to provide the music and many exciting competitions to be won.

The sponsors of the Designer of the Year are the Grand Oriental Hotel, the official hotel, Sterling Flowers, Semage Mirrors, Mal Key Rent-a-car, Beautine Astron, Furnifits, Ferla Apparel Tec, Rite Shu, Imagine Works and Elephant House, the official beverage partner with Kik Cola.
