TV Derana, which has been in the forefront of promoting Sri Lanka beauty queens to win the world, has once again teamed up with Veet as the main sponsor and the Sunday Observer as the media partner to present the Miss Sri Lanka 2014 for Miss Earth 2014.

After carefully scrutinizing and evaluating a record number of applications, 15 beautiful lasses have been picked for the final round. The winner of the mega finale will be eligible to represent Sri Lanka at the Miss World 2014 international pageant to be held later this year. The 14th edition of the Miss Earth 2014 will be held on November 29 and the reigning Miss Earth Alyz Henrich of Venezuela will crown the new Miss Earth. She is also expected to visit Sri Lanka for the Derana-Veet Miss Sri Lanka 2014 finale to crown the new Lankan beauty queen.

Miss Earth 2012 Olena Kozharko of Ukraine graced the Derana-Veet Miss Sri Lanka 2013 grand finale and crowned Solange Gunawijaya as Miss Sri Lanka for Miss Earth 2013. Solange represented Sri Lanka at the Miss Earth 2013 finale at which Venezuelan Alyz was crowned the winner.

Sri Lanka's flagship English newspaper, the Sunday Observer will run a popularity poll to pick the Most Popular Contestant at the Derana-Veet Miss Sri Lanka 2014 who will be crowned Miss Sunday Observer. Voting coupons will be published in the Sunday Observer commencing next week. Readers of the Sunday Observer will get an exclusive opportunity of voting for their favourite beauty queen at Miss Sri Lanka 2014 for Miss Earth 2014.
