

Workshop for contestants

BY MAHES PERERA

ments of their models and planning what kind of hair-do will enhance the style, in the categories they have chosen.

The organisers have informed contestants that a workshop will be held on June 16 (Sunday) at 9.00 a.m.

Please be present at Singer Mega, 4 B, De Kretser Place, Colombo 4. It is important that contestants present themselves for the workshop as it will be for their benefit.

The semi-final will be staged on July 28 at the host hotel, the Grand Oriental Hotel. The presenters have organised interesting events for all to enjoy. The contestants will enjoy free entrance on the semi-final day and on final night for the Cats Night at the B 52, Night Club.

The sponsors for the show are Grand Oriental Hotel, Colombo, Sterling Flowers, Samage Mirrors, Mal Key Rent-a-Car, Beautine Astron, Furnifits, Ferla Apparel Tec and Rite Shu.

The excitement among contestants continues with the rushing around to purchase the materials needed for the styles that will be displayed by them, the frenzy in taking measure-

Aparna Sewwandi Senanayake

I feel that my chances in this competition are quite good as my designs are unique, upbeat and contemporary. As a past pupil of Srimavo Bandaranaike Vidyalaya, I believe that the sky is the limit and since I am blessed with a vivid imagination and a good eye for fashion I am keen in participating in the Sunday Observer Singer Designer Contest and hope to move into the international sphere as well. I am at present employed at the Young Entrepreneurs Sri Lanka. I followed a course at the Lanka Institute of Fashion Technology and this is my first attempt at such a contest. I hope I will be successful.

H.G. Irosha Lasanthi

I have a 'can do' attitude in life which has driven me to fashion designing and which has been my passion from my young days. My father supported me in this area. After he passed away, I took a break and started my studies at the Singer Fashion Academy and am currently following the Diploma in Fashion Designing. I want to create my own fashion brand and my vision is to create designs that are both unique and wearable with a feminine touch. I want to keep the combination of beauty and sensuality with the use of exceptional fabrics and in my styles pay attention to details.

Amin Sha Farook

I am a fan of fashion shows and renowned fashion designers which has motivated me to take part in this competition. I enjoy working with colours and designs in art and the styles. I have sketched to reflect my taste in colours and style lines. I'm looking forward to getting involved in this contest and I'm glad that many young contestants are taking part this year.

Sripali Jayakody

I am a student of Samudradevi Balika Vidyalaya, Nugegoda. Before I completed my university education in BCom. I always had a passion for fashion. It was in my blood from my early childhood and I was happy when I got the opportunity to follow the Singer Fashion Design course. I strengthened my fashion knowledge by gaining a diploma in Fashion Design at the Lanka Institute of Fashion Technology (LIFT). I now work as a freelance fashion designer and intend to establish my own brand in fashion styles.
